

Quality Power Systems for today's veterinary market.

EVEROST PowerSystems

With over 30 years experience in the introduction of quality implants and systems to the veterinary market, Everost is proud to introduce a comprehensive range of battery driven high and low speed orthopaedic drills.

Most orthopaedic procedures require the use of some type of power equipment to perform the surgery. Historically, there were very few economical options for the veterinary surgeon. The choices were a drill from the hardware store or a very expensive (20K) power drill from a human company. Neither one of these options are ideal.

Our power systems are produced from high quality stainless steel with reliable electronics. The power is consistent and the performance is smooth. The attachments allow for quick and effortless assembly. All this quality with a price tag established for the veterinary surgeon.
